Dear Sandra,

Thank you for sharing your artwork with the Campus Christian Center recently. They were a pleasant addition to our rooms and we received many positive comments on them. They were a hit with students, faculty and staff.

Many remarked on the creativity of using a window, instead of canvas and a frame, as a format. Each piece is truly unique. The windows alone have lots of character and are an art form themselves. Some expressed appreciation in the fact that the windows were being reused and recycled.

We will keep your resume on file and contact you in the future to see if you would be interested in showing again.

Sincerely,

Joann George
